

Immigration Attorneys

This is a list of recommended immigration attorneys for those who wish to self-petition for U.S. Permanent Residency. In such cases Columbia University will not act as the petitioner and the individual works directly with outside counsel to file without Columbia University's signature on any immigration forms related to the case.

Although the ISSO does not endorse law firms and such petitions are not restricted to the firms below, the following are all members of the American Immigration Lawyers Association, have presented at Columbia, and are respected in their field.
